

CLASSIC DRIVER

Act II: A second life as a Singer designer

Lead

Much has been written about the Porsche 911 as created by Singer Vehicle Design in California. But who is really behind the Singer 911s? Director Frank Liew and his team visited designer Rob Dickinson - and asked him about his former life as the frontman of a rock band...

The 'Porsche 911 reimagined by Singer' is a phenomenon that has inspired Porsche fans worldwide. But what made Rob Dickinson actually give up his job as frontman of the British rock band 'Catherine Wheel' and instead concentrate on building the ultimate Porsche 911 in Sun Valley, California? Creative Director Franck Liew and his team from Obscura Magazine and Blackbird have gone in search of clues...

Gallery

Includes video

Has video

Hide gallery

Hide gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/act-ii-second-life-singer-designer>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.